

FEBONE1960.NET

BLACK HISTORY MONTH CALENDAR

FEBRUARY 2008

Greetings!

It's back! Yes the Febone1960.net Black History Month Calendar is back for 2008!

The Febone1960.net 2008 Black History Month Calendar traces the roots of an average African American Family from slavery to present day. Resembling Alex Haley's Roots, the Calendar utilizes the Internet and video streaming to show daily video clips during the month of February. Roots traced the genealogy of Alex Haley's family back to Africa. This electronic calendar starts the genealogy at slavery. Viewers will learn about the participation of unsung heroes and their impact on the civil rights movement.

The Calendar will be offered to all schools throughout the World free of charge starting on February 1, 2008. The viewers will be able to view a new clip each day. The viewers can view current day and previously posted clips.

This year we have the support of the National Education Association ("NEA"), the NEA Black Caucus and the National School Board Association ("NSBA") and its' Black Caucus component.

We also have the support of a few celebrities who have lent their voices to the project by narrating some of the clips.

It is our desire to have the calendar viewed daily by every person within and out of the United States. Therefore, we ask that you forward this email to all your friends and family and have them join us each and everyday starting February 1, 2008 for the five minutes video clips. The general public free of charge may access the calendar.

All schoolteachers and administrators need to make sure that the video clips will not be filtered out at their schools. Please contact your media specialist and ask that they contact the person who is responsible for the computers including the Internet at their schools

The calendar will accomplish the following:

- Reveal the unsung heroes of African American History
- Encourage African Americans to study their own family history
- Encourage dialog about the rich African American heritage and its' contribution to American Society
- Encourage reading and the utilization on the Internet within the African American community
- Encourage the appreciation and value education
- Reveal that African American History is American History

Please take a look at the summary and view the 2008 calendar at <http://febone1960.net/calendar08.htm>

If you would like to link this calendar to your website please contact Sam at calendar08@febone1960.net

Thank you for your support.

V S Bailey
calendar08@febone1960.net

This project is endorsed by the

NSBA